BRAZEN BURGLAR

CHIEF REPORTER

EXCLUSIVE HARDEEP MATHARU

hmatharu@london.newsquest.co.uk

A man who had his house broken into and his luxury car driven away by a brazen burglar is urging the police to take action after a third house in a month was ransacked in his street on Friday.

Julian Hunt, 43, of West Hill, Epsom, arrived back from holiday on August 17 to discover his house had been turned over and his £27,000 Audi car had gone.

In a burglary on August 17 to 18, a television and iPad were taken, and last Friday afternoon high value jewellery was taken from the home of another of his neighbours.

Police are not linking these burglaries to a string of other burglaries believed to have been carried by escaped convict Adam Yaroo, 28, in Epsom, Tadworth, Kingswood, between July 3 and September 8, for whom they issued an appeal yesterday.

Mr Hunt, an IT salesman, who lives with his wife and children, captured the thief in action on CCTV cameras he had installed on the front of his house.

The footage shows a casually dressed man visiting his house on Monday, August 11, at 10.30pm, ringing the doorbell and then walking off.

The man returned the following day at 10.30am, rang the doorbell several times. He is next seen by the cameras an hour later running past the front door, carrying a black sack, getting into Mr Hunt's Audi and reversing it down his driveway.

Mr Hunt said separate CCTV footage showed his postman had rung the doorbell at the same time to deliver a parcel, which he believes may have "spooked" the burglar.

He said that in the other two burglaries in the street the homes were "trashed".

None of the items stolen from his home – which included £8,000 worth of designer and electronic goods and cash – have been recovered.

The burglar is white, slim, likely to be in his late teens or early 20s, clean-shaven, with short brown or blonde hair.

He smashed a double-glazed door, reinforced with toughened safety glass, which Mr Hunt believes indicates the man was a "professional".

He added: "We foolishly didn't put lights on to go on and off automatically and the post was building up."

Mr Hunt said Surrey Police's crime prevention officers and forensics have visited his house and they are trying to trace his Audi using numberplate recognition.

But he said he has not heard much from them.

He said: "There have been no co-ordinated efforts to do anything about it."

"I would like the scumbags caught. We felt very safe, living on a busy road before."

"Until they are caught, we are not going to feel that kind of safety again or regain confidence."

He added: "I warned the police about the other burglaries too but no warnings have gone out or signs put up asking people if they have seen the burglars."

A Surrey Police spokesman said yesterday they are not ruling out the possibility the burglaries in West Hill are linked, that thorough investigations are ongoing and house-to-house enquiries have been carried out.

The spokesman said Mr Hunt has been contacted on "several occasions" and an officer from the safer neighbourhood team visited him this week.

Police website police.uk shows a sharp rise in burglaries in the Epsom and Ewell south area in recent months, up from five in April to 10 in May, 11 in June and 13 in July.

GLORIA FOSTER INQUEST: Neglect by social services contributed to pensioner's death, coroner rules

Friend bears 'no animosity' towards key social worker

A friend of Gloria Foster has said she has no animosity towards the social worker who failed to arrange carers for her.

Speaking after the verdict, Ann Penston, who had an enduring power of attorney for her friend's financial matters, said: "When I listened to the social worker giving her evidence in jaw-dropping honesty, that was very difficult."

"It may sound strange, but she didn't hide at all and obviously she's lost her career and social workers don't go into it to earn loads of money."

"They are caring people and it's made a huge impression on her life and I do feel sad about her situation. She has to live with that mistake."

"I don't have any animosity towards her. I wish her well."

But she called on Surrey County Council to learn from the tragedy and accept responsibility for what went wrong.

She said: "I think the coroner was very clear in his summary that Surrey County Council, through its neglect, had very greatly contributed to her death.

Lessons: Ann Penston hopes Surrey County Council will learn from tragedy

"One feels it is the lower group that take the blame. They have come out with new protocols, and I acknowledge that, but it should also be acknowledged that there were quite a few problems up there [at the top of the structure]."

"They should have been listening and should listen to avoid any future incidents."

'Grave indictment of the lack of service'

CHIEF REPORTER

HARDEEP MATHARU

hmatharu@london.newsquest.co.uk

A pensioner who died after being left without carers for nine days died from natural causes, which were contributed to by neglect, an inquest concluded.

Gloria Foster, 81, was found near death by a district nurse who visited her home in Priory Court, Chipstead Road, Banstead, on January 24 last year.

She had been left without carers, who normally visited her four times a day to help dress, wash and feed her, for nine days after the care agency Care1st24, based in Sutton, was shut down following an immigration raid by police on January 15.

Mrs Foster, who had been suffering from dementia, depression, diabetes and a number of other health problems, died in Epsom Hospital on February 4.

Delivering his verdict at Woking Coroner's Court on Tuesday, Coroner Richard Travers said that Mrs Foster's immobilisation for the nine days had "contributed in a way that was more than minimal" to her death from pulmonary thromboembolism and deep venous thrombosis.

He said: "I find that it was more likely than not that the period of immobilisation did contribute in a way which was more than minimal and the dehydration Mrs Foster suffered with which was limited to that period also contributed in a way that was more than minimal."

"There was a gross failure to provide Mrs Foster with basic care which contributed in a material way to her death."

"Gloria Foster died from natural causes contributed to by neglect."

Overlooked: Gloria Foster was left for nine days with no care support

Deadlinepix SU73878

Mr Travers said he would be writing to the chief executive of Surrey County Council to raise a number of important points, and to the Care Quality Commission.

The coroner said that had there been a proper appreciation of the fact that Mrs Foster needed care four times a day, care would have been provided by Surrey County Council and that what happened was a "grave indictment of the service or lack of service provided".

Last week, the court heard how Elizabeth Egan, the social worker responsible for ensuring that alternative arrangements were made for Mrs Foster following the raid on Care1st24, admitted she had "failed" the pensioner by not following up an unanswered call she said she made to Mrs Foster to inform her of what had happened.

Mrs Egan said she had been suffering from depression and burn-out and could not cope with her workload. She also said she wrongly believed that, as a self-funder, Mrs Foster could make her own alternative care arrangements or would have someone to help her do so.

Mrs Egan told the coroner: "The bottom line is that I failed. I made a mistake."

A police investigation into the issue last year found no record of the call.

Also giving evidence at the inquest last week, Jane Giles, the locality team manager for Reigate and Banstead at Surrey Adult Social Care at the time, said she had delegated the task of making alternative care arrangements for clients to Mrs Egan.

She also said she trusted Ms Egan and admitted she had not sought specific assurances that alternative care arrangements had been found for all those who needed it.

Ms Giles told the court: "I think that under the pressure of the workload within the whole team that, right the way down from senior management, we took assumptions on what was happening and there was no clear loop for feedback."

Mr Travers said "no checks and balances were undertaken" to ensure Mrs Egan had undertaken the work to make alternative arrangements.

County council confirms job losses while coroner flags up concerns

Surrey County Council (SCC) confirmed yesterday that it has dismissed two social workers in connection with the Gloria Foster tragedy but refused to say who or when.

After the coroner delivered his verdict saying that what happened was a "grave indictment of the service or lack of service provided" by the county council, the authority released a statement of just three lines attributed to "a council spokesman".

It said: "We would again like to say how sorry we are for our failure to help Gloria Foster get the support she needed. We should have done more and we completely accept that."

"While we have already made changes following this dreadful case we'll continue to do all we can to prevent anything like this happening again."

The coroner said he would be writing to the chief executive of SCC about the following areas of concern:

- The need to have a protocol for additional support for staff when such a closure of a care agency arises.

- The need for additional, specific training to reinforce to staff not to take a different attitude to self-funders.

- The need for additional, specific training so there is a clear understanding of the team leader of support and delegation of tasks.

- When there is such a closure of a care agency, for there to be clear lines of communication with that provider to ensure the bodies involved are immediately informed of the current situation.

MP may be called to court

Justice Secretary Chris Grayling may be called to give evidence in court after a fathers' rights activist set up camp on the roof of his home.

Martin Matthews, 47, of Middlemead Road, Bookham, stands accused of causing criminal damage to the MP's roof in Ashted where he spent a night and day last month.

Mr Matthews, a veteran activist for Fathers 4 Justice, who used to live in Chantilly Way, Epsom, denied the allegation that he damaged six tiles on the roof during a hearing at South East Surrey Magistrates' Court in Redhill on Monday.

Mr Matthews' lawyer Adam James, paid for through legal aid, said the broken tiles allegation was "new" and was made by Mr Grayling after he returned home from holiday.

Prosecutor Fahmina Islam said: "At this stage I will have to call Mr Grayling to court."

Magistrates lifted one of his bail conditions that stipulated he could not go to any premise owned by or "under control" of a member of Parliament, royalty or judiciary.

He still must not enter Mr Grayling's road.

Thefts from eight cars

Police believe a cyclist may be responsible for a spate of eight car break-ins in Ashted last week, including a Jaguar.

Sunglasses and small change were snatched from an Audi and Ford Focus in Leatherhead Road and a sat-nav was taken from a black Fiat Punto in Harriotts Lane.

An iPod was stolen from a Jaguar in Caen Wood Road, but nothing was taken from a Ford Fiesta in the same road which was also hit. A Honda and a Mercedes were also broken into in Chantry Close.

Police would like to hear from anyone who saw someone on a bicycle between 2am and 3am.

Mole Valley neighbourhood Detective Inspector Richard Hamlin said: "Vehicle crime is often opportunistic and can cause a lot of damage."

"The message is simple, removing items removes the temptation for thieves."

Paramedic's 12 years for rape

Predatory: Christopher Bridger was found guilty of five sex assaults on three different women

CHIEF REPORTER
SOPHIA SLEIGH

ssleigh@
london.newsquest.co.uk

A paramedic who pretended to be gay to gain the trust of a woman and rape her has been jailed for 12 years.

Predatory Christopher Bridger, 25, was found guilty of rape at Guildford Crown Court on Wednesday, July 30.

He was found not guilty of an offence of assault by penetration.

The court heard how in September 2008, while Bridger was learning to be a paramedic at St George's University Hospital, Tooting, he befriended his first victim, also studying there.

After a night out he started cuddling and kissing her.

He took her clothes off and raped her.

She was so traumatised by the experience she felt unable to report it when it happened.

In total, Bridger was found guilty of five sexual assaults on three female victims across Surrey and London following a 13-day trial.

Four of the charges related to offences that took place in Addlestone, Walton-on-Thames and Epsom over an 18-month period.

Bridger was found guilty of sexually assaulting two of his co-workers in 2011 and 2012 while he was working with the South East Coast Ambulance NHS Service.

Bridger will also serve three years' on licence after his release.

Detective Constable Claire Hastings, of the Sexual Offences, Exploitation and Child Abuse Command, said: "Bridger is a predator and a confidence trickster who abused the trust these women had in him."

"He purported to be their friend and deceitfully set out to gain their trust by lulling them into a false sense of security by claiming to be gay. Bridger took advantage of these women when they were at their most vulnerable."

"I hope the sentence today will give anyone who may have been a victim of a sexual assault the confidence to contact us or one of the many organisations that assist victims to ensure that they are provided with the support that they require."

In a statement after Bridger's conviction, a spokesman from SECam said: "When these serious allegations came to light we suspended Mr Bridger in October 2012 and, following a thorough investigation, he was dismissed in July 2013."

No charge for teens over sex attack on girl in fairground field at Derby

Two teenage boys arrested in connection with a sex attack at the Derby have been released with no further action being taken against them.

A teenage girl was sexually assaulted in a field in the fairground area at Epsom Downs Racecourse at 4pm on Derby Day, 2012.

Two teenagers, both 17, were arrested in November last year, but police said yesterday they did not have enough evidence to launch a prosecution.

Detective Sergeant Oana King, praised the courage of the victim and urged anyone who can identify her attacker to call Surrey Police on 101, or call 0800 555 111.

Cut free from car

A man was airlifted to hospital with serious injuries after several cars and lorries crashed on the M25.

The accident, which involved two lorries and five cars, happened between junctions 9, in Leatherhead, and 8 at Reigate, at 8.10am on Tuesday.

The driver of a Toyota Yaris, a man in his 30s, was flown to St George's Hospital, in Tooting, after being cut free.

Two HGVs, a Vauxhall Vivaro van, a Volkswagen Fox, a white Astra van, and a Volkswagen Golf were also involved.

High-flying winner backing annual business awards

CHIEF REPORTER

HARDEEP MATHARU

hmatharu@
london.newsquest.co.uk

A past winner at Epsom's business awards, who recently won a major contract with Mothercare, is urging companies to follow in her footsteps.

Paula Dixon, 34, from Epsom, founder of Jellybugs, a soft play area and cafe that was set up in the Harrier Centre, West Ewell, in 2009, was awarded the best overall business and best small independent business gongs at the first awards ceremony in 2011.

And her company has now won a contract to open soft play areas and cafes in Mothercare stores across the country.

A judge for this year's Epsom and Ewell Business Awards, which are sponsored by the Epsom Guardian, she is urging people to nominate businesses and individuals before the deadline on September 30.

Mrs Dixon, a mother-of-five, said: "The benefit of being part of the awards was that we were taken seriously in the local business community – soft play is not like running an accountancy firm."

"It was good to have recognition and the support of MP Chris Grayling, and raise awareness to increase our footfall. It's also good for the customers to know we have been awarded something like that."

Explaining how she got the Mothercare contract, she said: "I found the email address for the new chief executive and contacted him directly to pitch the idea. Then I went to the head office and met them."

"Part of the turnaround plan for Mothercare was to install soft play areas in the stores."

Gathering: The launch of the Epsom and Ewell Business Awards earlier this summer, with MP Chris Grayling and Epsom Guardian editor Sean Duggan in the centre EP85444

"I'm very proud and overwhelmed to see the Jellybugs name on the store and almost become a household name. It's nice that all your hard work finally pays off."

The first two play areas will be installed in stores in Gateshead and Solihull in the next few weeks, with the Jellybugs signage and brand to be put outside the stores.

Jellybugs is now based in Kingston's Rotunda complex, but can no longer be found in Ewell. Mrs Dixon is looking for larger premises in the Epsom area.

"We have a raffle too, which has some fantastic prizes donated by our local businesses, and it is a fantastic evening of fashion and fun, all raising money for a great charity."

The event is taking place in the Banstead Village Club, Lamborn Place, Banstead High Street, tonight.

Doors open at 6.30pm, and the fashion show starts at 7pm.

Tickets cost £8, including a glass of wine.

TRIAL: Youth 'taken prisoner by gang at station for £80'

Teen 'bragged by text about kidnapping boy'

ALICE FOSTER

alice.foster@
london.newsquest.co.uk

A teenager was taken prisoner on a busy station platform, forced to travel by train to a cashpoint and robbed, a court heard last week.

The younger of two defendants, accused of false imprisonment and robbery, allegedly sent a text message from Epsom station saying they had "kidnapped some boy lol".

A 17-year-old, who cannot be named for legal reasons, and Christopher Amirjani, 23, of no fixed abode, are standing trial at Blackfriars Crown Court.

A third teenager, Marcus Easy, 18, has previously pleaded guilty to robbery of an iPhone and £80 in cash during the rush-hour on Friday, February 28.

He was 17 at the time of the offence and was covered by an order protecting his identity that was lifted by the trial judge this week at the request of the Epsom Guardian.

Prosecutor Warwick Tatford said he was the "main man" and flashed a handle, which the victim assumed was a knife, on the train.

Just after 5pm the trio approached a 17-year-old boy at Epsom station and took him by train to a cashpoint on the footbridge at Clapham Junction station.

Mr Tatford said: "He was forced to take out £80 and was taken on a train back the other way. He was kept prisoner by the three men for the best part of an hour."

He said the victim was taken on a crowded train back to Ewell West station where the others shared out the "pretty pathetic proceeds" from the robbery.

He said: "One of the sadnesses of this case is a nasty, frightening incident took place for a small amount of money."

At 5.19pm, the 17-year-old defendant standing trial allegedly sent a text message to his girlfriend saying: "We have kidnapped some boy lol. He's taking us to a cashpoint in Clapham Junction."

She replied: "Who? Lol. How much dough has he got? You're looking to get nicked."

The victim, who is 17 and cannot be named for legal reasons, told the court that he was waiting for a train to meet friends in Wimbledon before going on to a family party in Chessington South.

He said the leader of the group tapped him on the shoulder and asked what kind of phone he had.

The victim said: "He sounded very angry and impatient...so I thought he obviously wants my phone, I will just tell him what phone I have got and hand it over if that's what it comes to."

The court was shown CCTV footage of the scene, which showed dozens of people walking past and waiting for their trains nearby.

Mr Tatford said that Mr Amirjani, like his accomplices appeared to be under the influence of drink and cannabis.

In Ewell West, he said the victim was given back £20 he had on him, aside from the £80 withdrawn, as well as his mobile phone at the request of the younger defendant.

Mr Tatford told the jury: "It has been a nice easy robbery - and there is a reward for good behaviour."

Amirjani has a robbery conviction and the 17-year-old has been reprimanded for possession of cannabis in the past.

The case continues.

Adding some class to school dinners

Aiming to improve school dinners: Phil Howard

As part of British food fortnight, from September 20 to October 5, two Michelin Star chef Phil Howard, who owns The Square restaurant in Mayfair, is teaming up with school catering firm Cucina Restaurants to produce a special British Classics school food range for pupils at Glyn School, in Ewell, and Esher Church of England School.

Far from the potato smiley faces and turkey dinosaurs of yesteryear, Howard's dishes will include pea and bacon soup with a sausage roll and rarebit, shepherd's baked potato with rosemary melted onions, cauliflower, ham and cheese fritters with an apple and onion dip and orange beignets with lemon posset.

Two versions of each of the 10 British Classic dishes will be produced - one to be served at standard school food prices, and the second - a fuller, restaurant-style version - with recipe cards for parents, pupils and teachers to try out at home.

Howard, a judge on the BBC's Great British Menu, said his aim is to show how good and appealing school food can be.

Get hot under book's collar

CHIEF REPORTER

HARDEEP MATHARUhmatharu@london.newsquest.co.uk

An erotic novel about an Epsom mother's quest for satisfaction has been penned by a local mother who experienced a "sexual awakening" after reading Fifty Shades of Grey.

Alexandra I, which is the author's pen name, has published her first novel, The Collar of Freedom, through Amazon.

The happily married 40-year-old from Stoneleigh, who works in Putney, said the book evolved from a piece of fan fiction she had written based on EL James' famous novels.

Her book's heroine, Amelia Jones, lives in Epsom with her husband and two children, but is not happy in her marriage and is simply "plodding along".

Mrs I said: "An intriguing new boss starts at her company and they fall for each other."

"He's into sado-masochism and dominance."

"She then finds her husband has been cheating on her."

"It is about a woman's search for more in her life and finding new ways of satisfying herself."

"Fifty Shades of Grey is more about sexual opening than anything else.

"That book really opened me up and there were so many emotions within me about it and the way I dealt with them was to write them down."

"My book is about how a woman who isn't happy can do something about her life or stay put and not grow."

The writer, who loves driving, said cars feature heavily in the novel and she explores the heroine's "sexual relationship with cars".

The author said she writes under a pen name because she feels people would make a moral judgement on her if they knew who she was.

She said: "When I talk about these types of books to men they get the wrong idea."

"Men like the visual, women like more mind stimulation."

"The book has lots of stimulation in it not just sex."

"Men tend to equate it just to porn."

"People do make a judgement on you."

"If they know someone is writing erotica they think that a woman is 'loose'."

"It's the moral judgement of the 21st century."

Mrs I said the book, which she insists is not based on her own experiences, is aimed at women over the age of 30 who have already had children.

Adult content: The cover of the new novel

She said: "Once you have children's it's all about them and when they go to school you're empty and alone and think 'What am I doing with my life now?' and you realise whether you're happy or not."

"People re-evaluate their lives after the age of 40."

The author said the book has been "very successful" on Amazon, having received a number of favourable reviews, and she is now working on a second book which should be out in December, The Collar of Sacrifice.

Biker killed in crash

CHIEF REPORTER

HARDEEP MATHARUhmatharu@
london.newsquest.co.uk

Tributes have poured in for a young motorcyclist who was killed in a crash on Saturday morning despite a desperate battle to save him.

A spokesman for South East Coast Ambulance service (Secamb) said paramedics were called to the back of Hook Road Arena, Horton Lane, in Epsom, at 11.15am on Saturday, to report a motorcyclist had come off his bike.

Three ambulances, two support cars and an air ambulance were all sent to the scene, where the teenage motorcyclist was lying in the road, having sustained injuries to his head, neck and upper arm.

A Secamb spokesman said: "Everyone worked together to try to resuscitate the person including a police medic who was on the scene before we arrived.

"Sadly the man was pronounced dead at the scene."

Alan Carlson, a former Epsom councillor and mayor who lives around the Horton area, said the police cordoned off the road from the roundabout where Horton cemetery is situated to the last entrance to the St Ebba's site.

A motorcyclist himself, he said: "I was terrified at the time as 'What's On in Epsom' had posted it was a motorcyclist on a blue Yamaha and my son, who is a motorcyclist and lives in Hook Road, drives a blue motorcycle.

"My heart was in my mouth until I managed to speak to Andy.

"We know the risks when we do it and it makes you think.

"There has been talk of issues with speeding on Horton Lane as it is a wide road, but not particularly on Hook Road."

Mr Carlson said there are a number of roundabouts on Horton Lane, at regular intervals, which he believes makes it unlikely that a motorcyclist would be able to reach very fast speeds.

A number of tributes have been left to the motorcyclist on the Facebook page of What's On In Epsom.

Kirsty MacDonald said: "Praying for calm and strength for the family at this difficult time."

Jamie Lee Nash wrote: "RIP to the young lad, bikes are so dangerous. Heart goes out to the family."

Tony Cutlan added: "We arrived just after the accident and saw the rider lying in the road being tended to by people who didn't know him, but stopped to try and help.

"Accidents happen, young people do things that are sometimes irresponsible.

"Autopilot drivers very often fail to pay proper attention to their driving.

"It doesn't matter - a young man lost his life. Not for you to judge. As a motorist, a biker, and a parent."

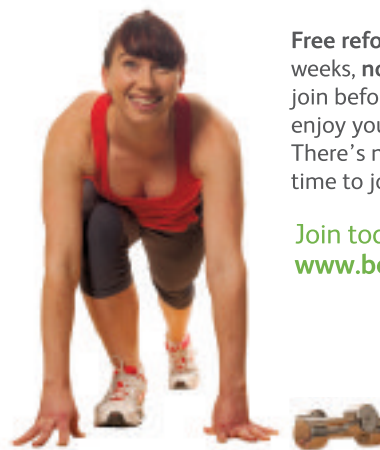

Surrey Police are appealing for witnesses of the incident to come forward.

Need to weed beds near war memorial

REPORTER

ALICE FOSTER

alice.foster@london.newsquest.co.uk

Weeds were allowed to overrun flower beds next to a plot transformed by people power for centenary of the Great War.

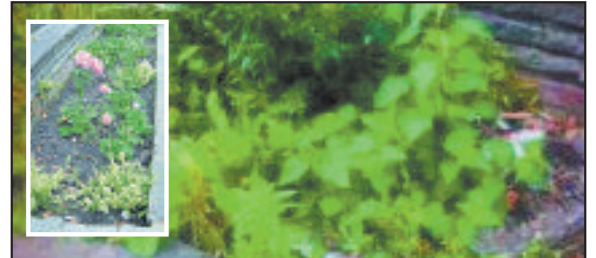

Good Samaritans spruced up a flower bed alongside the war memorial in Ewell Village a month before the 100th anniversary of the war's outbreak in August.

But Epsom Council is responsible for looking after neighbouring flower beds and these were spotted in a neglected state last week.

Nick Kelly, a former member of local Air Cadet Squadron 323, said he had read about the "good-hearted" community effort in the Epsom Guardian in July.

But Mr Kelly said it would have been even more of a tribute if the council maintained its flower beds, instead of just applauding the volunteers.

He said: "I was mortified to walk past the flower beds only a couple of days ago to find them overgrown with weeds and uncared for. The council appears to have been blowing hot air about 'working together'. I assume they're expecting another local fairy godmother to come and wave her magic wand to harvest another beautiful flower bed.

Tended: The flower bed near the war memorial overgrown with weeds and, inset, after planting

"Surely it would only take the council's gardeners one hour every couple of weeks just to pop by and give them a turnover?"

When the council was contacted to find out what was going on a spokesman said one of the council flower beds had now been replanted with roses, and the other, which contains "sustainable plants", has apparently been weeded.

The anonymous good Samaritan, who organised the clean-up in August and tends the community flower bed said: "It was indeed full of weeds the other day, but... it has been weeded now and looks quite good. You can reassure your reader that all is fairly well flower-bed-wise in Ewell."

Councillor Clive Woodbridge, who represents Ewell, said: "We did plant shrubs shortly after the volunteers did theirs. But if they have become overgrown clearly that is something we need to attend to."

"In that particular case we did our bit to tidy up the war memorial and the volunteers kindly planted up the bed close to the war memorial."

Charlotte Moggridge, who has previously written to this newspaper over the state of the flower beds, said: "The situation is totally frustrating. Ewell Village has the potential to be such a beautiful place and is totally neglected."

Popular: The playing fields are used by several sports clubs while the nearby St Clement's Primary School uses the land for its annual sports day

Playing fields plan narrowly rejected

REPORTER
ALICE FOSTER
alice.foster@london.newsquest.co.uk

Controversial plans for a care home to be built on playing fields in Ewell were rejected by a narrow majority of councillors last week.

Charity Nonsuch Abbeyfield was refused planning permission for sheltered housing, with 60 flats and round-the-clock care, in Old Schools Lane.

At Epsom town hall on Thursday night six councillors voted to reject the planning application, four councillors voted to approve it and two councillors abstained from voting.

Council officers had recommended refusal because the development would lead to a loss of open space and harm the conservation area.

But they did acknowledge the need for elderly accommodation and highlighted the charity's plan to improve the remaining pitches.

Maurice Pagella, a trustee at Nonsuch Abbeyfield, said they were disappointed by the decision, but said: "The project is certainly not dead."

"There was a lot of debate and quite a lot of confusion and some of the councillors were somewhat concerned they had not got all their advice they should have done from officers."

Ewell Councillor Michael Arthur, who spoke in opposition to the plans, said: "It was a long debate and very crowded with people. It was a very, very finely balanced thing."

Coun Arthur said the "rural quality" of that part of the conservation area and its green open spaces need to be preserved.

He said: "Building on there with a big, bland building – in my opinion – was not a fitting feature in Ewell Village."

Campaigners had formed Old Schools Lane Playing Fields User Group and collected more than 1,500 signatures in a bid to block the development.

Andrew Tibble, chairman of the group, said: "It's a victory for planning policy and the environment. It won't be a complete victory from our perspective until we can encourage the owner to promote its continued use as a sports field.

"That's our next battle."

As part of the project Nonsuch Abbeyfield planned to acquire the 12-acre site from a Catholic educational charity, the Salesians.

Nonsuch Abbeyfield's trustees issued a statement the following day saying: "This proposal offered so much to the whole community, both old and young – it would have secured much needed housing and care for vulnerable older people, as well as enhanced sports provision for local people of all ages."

"What we offered was the opportunity for these benefits to be locked-in for the life of the new facility (60 years plus) with an even longer year lease for the playing fields."

"Instead it appears the sports field, which closed on August 31 when the tenancy of the Old Salesians football club ended, are now likely to remain closed and not available to the community at all."

"We were heartened by the support from councillors, but distressed that the majority followed the strong lead from Coun Arthur, the local ward councillor, and refused the application."

"This was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to secure these benefits for the community."

Help improve hospital services

Epsom and St Helier hospitals are urging people to join its Patient First programme and help improve services.

The hospitals serve a population of more than 420,000 people and the trust said it was "vital that its patients and local people can have their say and help to shape services".

A spokesman said: "We hope each person joining the Patient First programme will give us honest and frank feedback about the things we do, and in return, we promise to share the results in our newsletters and to let them know how their feedback is being used to change or improve services we provide.

"They will also be able to become involved in some of our upcoming improvement projects, such as a significant programme to improve the way people can navigate our hospitals."

The hospitals introduced Nurse in Charge badges as a result of the first wave of the Patient First programme, when feedback showed they were having trouble identifying lead nurses.

People who sign up to the programme will receive a monthly newsletter.

If you are on Twitter use the hashtag #esthchampion to keep up with the latest news on the programme.

Memorial benches for mother and son

REPORTER

alice.foster@london.newsquest.co.uk

An auction night has ensured there will be not one, but two memorial benches for a "lovely" mother and son killed in a car crash.

Nicola Morris, 29, and Kai Arnold, 11, died in a head-on collision on a bend in Banstead Road, Ewell, on Saturday, July 5. The fatal crash left the community in shock and tributes flooded in for the well-loved schoolboy and his mum, who grew up in Woodmansterne.

An auction night at Woodmansterne Sports Club last month raised about £3,800 for a memorial bench in their memory and for a trust fund for Ms Morris' other young son, Alfie.

On top of this amount, local companies and banks have generously pledged £2,700.

Organiser Pat Johnson, a friend of Ms Morris' mother, thanked the community and businesses for coming together to make the evening a success.

She said: "I have been absolutely inundated with donations and friends helping out. I have been astounded by it. It's gone from a little thing to a huge event."

Tragic accident: Mother and son Nicola Morris and Kai Arnold were killed in a head-on collision in Banstead Road, in July

Separately, Kai's friend Jake Noakes, 13, has been raising money for another memorial bench that will be placed on Woodmansterne Green.

Jake has nearly reached his fundraising target of £1,520 thanks to nearly 100 people who have donated £1,410 online.

Any surplus donations will be paid into Alfie's trust fund.

Jake said: "I am raising money for a memorial bench to be put in Woodmansterne near the carved-out log as this was where they grew up and also one of their favourite places."

Dentures? Missing Teeth? ...Have you heard about fixed teeth in a day?

Imagine no movement of dentures, no palate, and no obstructions! NO PROBLEM.....

Our guess is, if you currently wear dentures or have missing teeth you would do anything to have fixed teeth again – well you can! The Denture and Implant Clinic offers the latest revolutionary techniques which are fast becoming the new way to solve missing teeth problems!

Confidence to eat and enjoy your food!

The Denture and Implant Clinic's founder Dr Justin Stewart was the first bio-functional prosthetic system qualified dental surgeon in the UK. He continued his studies determined to find better solutions for people with missing teeth and although Dr Stewart no longer practices, the clinic offers this amazing solution 'Fixed teeth' through his highly trained team.

Amazing Solutions for missing teeth

This amazing solution has been developed to allow implants to be placed in the upper or lower arch in the mouth (or both) and a bridge is fixed onto the implants which is secure leaving you confident in the knowledge that your teeth will not move. 'Fixed Teeth' is a fantastic solution for patients who are unhappy with their dentures or have been told they need dentures and want to avoid them. Our patients comment on how confident they feel after the procedure, knowing their teeth will not fall down or worse, fall out, during a conversation. The treatment means that patients can taste their food again...they have their palate back! The clinic receives numerous patients who were putting off having dentures and living in misery with painful teeth but are now pain free and happy, in some cases happier with their new smile than they were with their original smile!

Visit www.thedentureclinic.co.uk and read the success stories, you will be amazed!

Teeth being secured in the mouth

The clinic have a highly experienced and dedicated team, and each team member plays a part in ensuring the care the patient receives is an enjoyable experience. The Denture and Implant Clinic has its own dental laboratory on site. Patients will also be encouraged to bring in photographs of when they had their own teeth, and those photos are used during the reconstruction of the final bridge to perfectly replicate the smile that the patient once had.

Smile Advisor, Jennie Baker at The Denture and Implant Clinics says, "This really is an amazing new technique that will change people's lives. Living with 'False teeth' can be upsetting and difficult. Over the years we have encountered every conceivable problem patients endure, but this new fixed procedure allows patients to forget they ever wore dentures, leaving them free to enjoy their lives and have the confidence that we offer - a 100% guarantee with all our treatment!"

I had my first appointment at Abi Dental six months ago and have felt at ease from my first visit.

I have had my braces on for five months now and am looking forward to having them removed in the next month or so. I am very pleased with how quickly the treatment has worked.

PATIENT testimonials

I found the advert for Abi Dental after being told by my previous dentist I needed tooth extraction and my jaw broken to be realigned I was looking for other options.

They offered free consultation and were friendly and helpful they discussed everything in detail answering all my queries.

I am now into month three of the Six Month Smile Treatment and the progress is amazing. My teeth are straighter and I can already see the difference. I would highly recommend Abi Dental to anyone who is not happy with their teeth.

R Miller

I am currently coming towards the end of my Six Month Smile treatment and I am so pleased with the results.

I was very conscious of not smiling openly previously and now, even though I have the brace, I have noticed I am smiling much more confidently.

I also cannot praise Abi Dental enough I couldn't have found a more motivating and supportive dentist.

Abeer Al-Adhami, owner of Abi Dental in Sutton, prides herself on the fact hers is no ordinary dental practice. Here she explains why one of her treatments, Six Month Smiles, is proving so popular

We at Abi Dental are very pleased and proud to be Six Month Smiles providers.

This brilliant short term orthodontic (STO) system works, and it works well.

We have seen how it changes people's smiles and confidence levels time and time again. The results always brings a smile to our faces as well as our patients.

I personally enjoy carrying out this type of treatment because of the amazing results we've achieved and the feedback that we've had from our patients as to how pleased they have been with the Six Month Smiles experience.

After looking into a number of STO systems, it was this one that I thought had the best advantages and made the most sense. It is designed for adults who want to straighten front teeth. It is ideal for people who have never worn braces – perhaps because they did not like their appearance, or because of the time involved. It is also ideal for adults who did have orthodontic treatment when younger but did not wear their retainers.

It is also used to align teeth prior to any cosmetic procedures to gain a better aesthetic result.

Reasons to CHOOSE the Six Month SMILES Brace System

- Cost effective
- It takes less time, six to nine months on average
- It consists of clear brackets and a thin white wire making it discreet
- At the end of treatment, the patient also receives whitening
- Low forces and short treatment times increase comfort, safety, and hygiene

Residents battle homes plan

Danger: Residents by the planned development entrance

I am writing to bring to your attention to an issue that is causing great anger and distress to the residents of Oakdale and Chessington roads in Ewell.

The cause of this is an application that has been lodged with Epsom and Ewell Council to build two pairs of semi-detached houses behind a house in Chessington Road by developers.

Although this is still at the planning stage, the way in which the developers have acted plus the considerable safety risks the development will cause (if approved) have already caused dismay.

The back garden of the proposed development is about 100ft long and runs the length of Oakdale Road. Over the past few decades the back garden of the house was allowed to become overgrown to the extent that it was virtually an impenetrable wilderness, thick with vegetation and numerous large trees. This provided both a home for numerous wildlife, eg, bats, hedgehogs, foxes, etc, and also acted as a screening barrier to Oakdale Road homes and a nearby park.

A decision was then made by the developers to quickly clear the vegetation as a precursor to preparing the site for building work. The first residents knew of this was on the morning of July 12, when contractors proceeded to chainsaw the trees and bushes.

The residents are concerned at the following areas of the contractors' behaviour that day:

- No waste disposal procedures were used – waste was seemingly moved around the site and dumped willy-nilly, and in some cases asbestos was stacked against residents' fences for several hours before being removed.
- No ecology report was done prior to the site being cleared – this was commissioned after the clearance took place – hence it will show no wildlife.

□ Some of the trees were cut down, then girdled to prevent them re-growing.

Notwithstanding these significant issues, the residents feel the proposed access road to the new development poses a major safety risk to pedestrians, people entering/leaving the park and traffic along Chessington Road.

To make matters worse, the visibility of the drivers will be significantly impeded by the remaining part of the security fence in front of the park, and also by the pedestrian crossing and traffic lights next to it. Residents have formally objected to the plans and there are more than 20 objections on the council's web portal. They have also written to MP Chris Grayling.

Time for council gardener to work

Back in the middle of July you featured a column titled People power transforms the look of Ewell Village war memorial to mark Great War centenary (July 9).

I was moved to see this feature and that several good local Samaritans had taken it upon themselves to pay their respects to those who fought in the Great War by replanting the flower beds next to the memorial.

I was proud to see two young lads pictured with 323 on the back of their T-shirts, which is the local air cadet squadron I used to belong to, just up the road from the war memorial located at the Territorial Army barracks.

It would have been even more of a tribute if the council was to not only just recognise this good hearted gesture by just a comment on the feature, but to continue its support by maintaining the up-keep of the flower beds.

I was mortified to walk past the flower beds only a couple of days ago to find them overgrown with weeds and uncared for.

I quote from your feature, Coun Woodbridge said: "It shows volunteers and the council working together."

"They kindly came along on Sunday morning to replant the beds that unfortunately the flooding had killed off."

Well the council appears to have been blowing hot air about "working together".

I assume they are expecting another local fairy godmother to come and wave her magic wand to harvest another beautiful flower bed.

Surely it would only take the council's gardeners one hour every couple of weeks just to pop by and give them a turnover?

Mental health week consideration

With Epsom mental health week approaching can we please have an understanding from the railway station operators that our visitors, many of whom are vulnerable, will not be embarrassed by all the untidy ticket arrangements.

Like older passengers, we cannot expect them all to carry computers and mobile phones; so they will not know that Epsom is not in the London zones, and they cannot use their Oyster cards, until they get told off and fined £20.

The week is a national event and the last thing we want is bad publicity.

We seem to have got away with it for the Derby. Can we run the race again?

Finally Land Army to be recognised

I heard on the TV Country File programme last Friday that the Women's Land Army are to be honoured.

Wow! And how long has this taken to come about?

Two world wars and counting. They do not even get recognition on Remembrance Day nor at the Albert Hall Remembrance programme. Appreciation at last then.

Cleared up very quickly

So how about a positive letter. I contacted Reigate and Banstead Council on September 4 as the alleyway between Rose Bushes and Fir Tree Road, Epsom, was completely overgrown and had not been cleared for a long time.

I diarised for a reply in three weeks.

To my amazement, less than a week later, on Monday, September 8, "Roger" spent three hours restoring this alleyway to a condition I can never remember it looking like before – and I have lived in Rose Bushes for nearly 40 years.

My name is Mr Marriott from London. I am wondering if you can help me.

The kind and considerate lady in the photo, right, stopped, helped and looked after me while I was suddenly taken ill at London's Notting Hill Carnival. I remember her saying that she came from Epsom.

I did not get the chance to thank her and would very much like to do so. I would be grateful and pleased if your newspaper, the Epsom Guardian, could be of some help.

Obviously I do not want to cause any discomfort or embarrassment to the lady in question, but I would like to thank her for her caring nature and for helping a total stranger.

Kings Land in trouble over greenbelt plots

CHIEF REPORTER

HARDEEP MATHARU

hmatharu@
london.newsquest.co.uk

A Dubai-based international real estate agency has sold scores of plots of greenbelt land despite accusations that it has misled buyers about their development potential.

Kings Land has been advertising exclusive plots in the "Epsom Hills", off Downsway Close, Epsom Downs – 100m away from Epsom Downs Racecourse.

On its website, it highlights the main advantages of where the 155 plots, spanning 13.5 acres, are located – including the land being within the London commuter belt and immediately adjacent to a "high value residential housing development".

The Epsom Guardian was contacted back in March by a number of residents who said they were astounded to see the land for sale because they said it lies within the Metropolitan greenbelt and has no realistic chance of acquiring planning permission in the future.

After making several attempts at getting in touch with Kings Land, a spokeswoman recently provided the newspaper with information about the plots.

It showed the majority of the

Misleading? Dubai-based Kings Land has sold greenbelt land next to Epsom Downs Racecourse plots in the Epsom Hills, ranging from 74sqm to 585sqm have now been sold, while a few have been reserved, booked or are being resold.

All of the plots have been marketed as "residential" and their prices are available upon request from the company – something the Epsom Guardian asked for.

In March, Kelvin Hilton, development manager at Reigate and Banstead Council, said the land was being advertised with false claims of having development or investment potential because it was "very unlikely to be granted planning permission".

He said the council had served an Article 4 direction on the site when it became aware of how it was being marketed by Kings Land. This direction aimed to maintain the openness of the land by stopping it being fenced off into plots.

Mr Hilton said trading standards had been made aware of the claims made by Kings Land's.

SCHOOL: Student is first in decade to win Oxbridge place

Clever Joe is Oxford-bound

CHIEF REPORTER

HARDEEP MATHARU

hmatharu@london.newsquest.co.uk

A talented student is preparing to start at Oxford next month – the first pupil at his school to win a place at the prestigious university for more than a decade.

Joe Gentle, achieved his place at the world-class institution to study French after being awarded two A grades and a B in his A-levels at Epsom and Ewell High School, in Ruxley Lane, Epsom.

Headteacher Alex Russell said he was delighted with Joe's success, which he believes will inspire other students.

He said: "Everyone at Epsom and Ewell High School is so pleased for Joe. I pay tribute to his hard work and that of the teachers who helped him achieve his great results."

"I would like to think that this is just the start and that we will now be providing the Oxbridge colleges with a steady supply of excellent students."

Joe said: "I am thrilled to be going to Oxford and would like to thank my teachers at Epsom and Ewell High School for their support and encouragement."

Claire Spain, assistant headteacher, said the school – a mixed comprehensive – has undergone a "huge transformation" in recent years and students are now consistently improving upon the previous year's GCSE and A-level results.

She said: "We were put into special measures in November 2008, but under the leadership of Alex Russell, who was a new headteacher at the time, we were taken out of special measures and graded as Good by Ofsted by March 2010."

"We are now well on the way to being graded outstanding."

Blade made from wreckage of Zeppelin

Bourne Hall's exhibition, Epsom and Ewell in the Great War, will be on display at the museum in Spring Street, Ewell, until December 31.

Curator Jeremy Harte said: "Faced with the horrors of industrial war, people tried to domesticate them by making what is called trench art."

"It consisted of small, homely items made out of the mass-manufactured machinery of destruction. This paper knife is a classic piece of trench art, made from pieces of the LZ85 Zeppelin."

"It was created by Archibald Hiles who had family in Alexandra Road, Epsom."

"In 1915, the Greek town of Salonika had become the centre of an expeditionary force to attack pro-German Bulgaria.

"Archibald was there in the Army Service Corps, serving on a motor boat."

"On May 6, 1916, the LZ85 flew over Salonika Harbour, past the battleship HMS Agamemnon."

"The ship opened fire and the shell tore through the gas bag of the Zeppelin so that it lost buoyancy and came down burning in the Vardar marshes."

"The wreckage was taken to Salonika Harbour and rebuilt on the harbour wall to study its construction."

"During the reconstruction many fragments were removed, and one of them came to Archibald."

"He made it into the blade of this paper knife, using French bullets to provide a handle."

brand new building housing classrooms, specialist Dance, Drama and Music facilities and a state of the art sports hall with fitness suite, and also the expansion of 6th Form facilities and upgrade of Science laboratories.

A grand address

Live in luxury at stunning mansion on the edge of Epsom

A luxurious new mansion in Surrey will be home to one lucky owner for a cool £6.5 million, writes Lauren Mason.

Orchard House, Epsom, boasts expansive views over the RAC Country Club to the Grandstand at Epsom Downs Racecourse and beyond.

The internal floor area measures over 10,000sq ft and the building is set in almost an acre of land.

Described by estate agents Knight Frank as 'Epsom's finest residential address', the property is accessed via an impressive gravel driveway that winds its way to the front door.

The three-story property features, among many other things, a cinema room complete with a video projection system, a gymnasium and a separate flat for staff.

However, despite its flashy features, the property is designed for functional and comfortable family living.

The bespoke Italian kitchen is a prime example of this and reaps the benefits of numerous mod-cons, including an air purification system.

Not only is Orchard House ideally equipped for family life and for entertaining, but its location is second-to-none.

The property stands amidst the rolling Surrey countryside, yet is also 20 miles from central London and a mere 3.5

miles from the M25, although when surrounded by the perfectly manicured gardens, it would be difficult to feel close to the capital.

Ashted village is also just 1.5 miles away offering the convenience of local amenities.

For those more suited to country living, the Epsom and Ashdown commons provide an escape from metropolis.

Miles of footpaths and bridal paths surround the area, ensuring that the luxury home is suited to people of all tastes.

However, when the property benefits from cosy features such as under floor heating, a fully integrated wine cooler and plush carpeting, it would be excusable for anybody to choose lounging at home to walks in the country.

● Key features to Orchard House: Galleried reception hall

• Cloakroom • Drawing room • Dining room • Family room • Kitchen/ breakfast room • Cinema room • Study • Servery/utility room • Second Cloakroom • Excellent master bedroom suite with en-suite bathroom separate shower and dressing room • Four further bedroom suites • Further bedroom 6/gymnasium and further bathroom • Studio staff flat with kitchen and bathroom • Triple garage • Impressive rising driveway • Landscaped gardens

Commuters' dream

An easy commute, great outdoor space, shops, restaurants and a community spirit are the ingredients which make up the perfect commuter village.

That's according to developer Millgate which has selected Ashted for an exclusive development of multi-pound homes being built at The Warren which are due for completion by spring 2015.

The large detached homes will have five bedrooms and the same number of bathrooms spread over two and three floors ranging from 6,226 to 7,704 sq ft with one of the homes featuring an outdoor swimming pool. Guide prices for these new homes range from £3,800,000 to £4,000,000.

A spokesman for Millgate said: "Ashted is brilliantly situated about halfway between London and the south coast, making it wonderful for family days out in Brighton or on the beaches at the Witterings.

Equally accessible is a visit to the Natural History Museum or a night at the theatre.

"The M25 is on the doorstep for easy access to other areas of the country and Gatwick and Heathrow airports are almost equidistant. Close to home is also the Epsom Derby and the beautiful hills of the North Downs for relaxing strolls.

"Families are spoilt for choice where schooling is concerned in Ashted. State and private primary schools are in abundance and countless private senior schools are on offer with many boasting top UK results.

"The local girls only state school is coveted and there are a number of grammar schools in the area also."

Working to meet demand for new homes

New figures released today by NHBC show that the number of new homes being registered across the UK remains slightly ahead of corresponding statistics for last year.

The latest statistics show that 38,099 new homes were registered for the rolling quarter

May – July, compared to 37,738 for the same period last year; an increase of one per cent, building on the strong growth seen throughout the country over the last 18 months.

The private sector continues to drive overall growth with numbers up nearly seven per cent for the rolling quarter compared to last year (28,861 this year; 27,028 last year) with the public sector remaining down on 2013 levels by 14 per cent (9,238 this year; 10,710 last year).

Figures for July indicate a slight drop when compared to the same month last year (13,153 this year – 10,278 private sector;

2,875 public versus 13,539 for July 2013; 10,300 private; 3,239 public), although it is the second highest monthly total so far this year.

Commenting on the latest statistics, NHBC's chief executive Mike Quinton said: "Our latest statistics continue the trend seen during the year to date, with monthly volumes remaining steady and consolidating on last year's overall levels.

"As we have stressed in the past, this recovery has been from a historically low base, so the industry must continue to work hard to meet the demand for more new, quality homes."

Now celebrating its seventh successful year, the Young Reporter scheme is a great opportunity for any youngster with their sights set on a career in journalism

Has your school signed up yet?

A determination to succeed

Diana Jarvis started the schools programme in September 2008. It was her idea to give students the chance to experience working as reporters in a competitive industry.

Having worked in journalism for more than 20 years, she started life as a junior reporter on a trade journal working for whom she can only describe as "a dragon" of an editor.

She says: "It was quite a scary start and could have turned me off journalism for ever, but instead it taught me a lot and toughened me up for working in this industry."

Over the years she has worked for many publications and loved being in and around the media. It was always her dream to write and she sent off her first article to the editor of a magazine when she was 12.

She said: "I felt quite incensed when he sent back a rejection letter, but he did give me some positive words. He told me to study hard and I could have a career in journalism. Those words gave me the push to do just that and here I am today working with students, some of whose dreams are to follow along that path."

These were our worthy winners this year, next year this could be you

London's most talented teenage journalists received their awards at special ceremony in July.

The youngsters triumphed in our Young Reporter Awards, beating close to 1,000 other students at 100 secondary schools across the capital and in parts of Kent and Surrey.

We are now recruiting for this year's batch of young wannabe journalists who are interested in making the news. Set up six years ago, the Young Reporter scheme lets school students get a taste of life as a journalist by completing a series of assignments that are then published on our websites.

Every year the quantity and quality of entries has increased and this year was no different – the judges had great difficulty in selecting the winners.

Big winners on the night included Chloe Batchford from Chislehurst's Farrington School, who triumphed in the years 10 and 11 age group for breaking news.

Her gripping account of a burglary on Halloween in Chislehurst included witness reports and hints at a bright journalistic future.

Group managing editor Andy Parkes, who helped present the awards, said: "This is one of my favourite events, and it gets better every year."

"The enthusiasm and dedication of the young reporters never ceases to amaze me and it's an honour to recognise their achievements.

"We know it helps immensely when they are applying for university places and a number of the young reporters who took part in year one have already gone on to become professional journalists.

"I am already looking forward to this year's entrants."

Peter Le Riche, from the University of Roehampton, the awards' higher education partner, said: "Our congratulations go to each one of the winners for the work they have put in."

"The students I spoke to at the awards were clearly serious about becoming responsible journalists, which is very heartening to see."

As part of their prize, all the winning students were invited to a special day, organised by Kingston University, where they were helped to create their own newspaper using their award-winning stories.

Reasons why you should join the Young Reporter scheme

1. Real live work experience for a newspaper group
2. A chance to see your articles uploaded on our websites
3. An opportunity to build a portfolio of your published work
4. Gain interviewing techniques
5. Increase confidence in your writing skills
6. An experience to put on your CV or use with your Ucas applications
7. Learn to work alone in a competitive industry
8. The chance to compete against other students to win prizes
9. Understand what it is like to work to deadlines and within categories alongside our own journalists
10. An acquired skill that universities love to hear about

It seems hard to believe, but less than a century ago much of Epsom was still farmland.

Now is your chance to discover a little about this lost world on which your house may be built, writes Hardeep Matharu.

St Mary's Church, Cuddington, at the top of The Avenue in Worcester Park, is staging an exhibition of photographs and recollections of farms in Worcester Park, Cuddington, Nonsuch, Stoneleigh and Old Malden.

The Friends of Shadbolt Park will display albums showing their restoration of the day-lily garden beside Shadbolt Park House, and there will be another chance to see the 400 years of Worcester Park exhibition.

Historian David Rymill, whose family has organised the event, says: "Today, thousands of people live in the communities of Worcester Park, Cuddington and Stoneleigh, but until the 1930s most of this area was farmland.

"It was mainly used for dairy herds, cereal crops and hay production, although some farms had other specialisations, ranging from pig keeping to fruit growing.

"We have produced a display showing the boundaries of the farms in the area as they were in the mid-19th century, so visitors will be able to see which farm used to cover the area where they now live.

"The display also includes photographs of many of the farmhouses that used to exist in the district – and of a few of the farmers as well, together with some information about how the crops or livestock that could be found on many of the farms over the years, and recollections of people who remember working on the farms, or seeing farming activities, over the course of the 20th century.

"We have been particularly pleased to have the chance to include in the display copies of Dr Robin Mattocks's atmospheric photographs of farming in Nonsuch Park in the 1940s, and of a collection of photographs dairy farming at Tolworth Court Farm, the last working farm in the district, in the late 20th century – which many people probably drove past on the A240 without being aware of it."

The church itself, with its Victorian architecture, and its range of stained glass dating from the 1890s to the 2000s, is well worth a visit.

There will also be a display, featuring hymn-books and prayer books used at St Mary's over the decades, plus hymns and anthems written by the church's organists.

Rymill says: "This is also a chance to see inside the church and enjoy the beauty of its stained glass windows – including the latest window installed in 2005."

Rymill's two books on the history of area will be on sale at the event.

Tea, coffee and cake will be available at the event, and most of the church complex and toilets are accessible to wheelchair users.

There will be parking in the church car park.

A walk along Royal Avenue and the field path to Church Road would enable people to also visit St John's Church, Old Malden, which will be open on all four days of the Heritage Open Days weekend: today and Friday, September 12, 11am to 4pm; Saturday, September 13, 10am to 5pm and Sunday, September 14, 2pm to 5pm.

JUST FOR LAUGHS

If you fancy having your ribs tickled, popular comedy troupe Jongleurs are back on the road.

Jim Smallman will be competing on the night, with Adam Vincent, Stuart Goldsmith and Steve Gribbin all set to appear.

Smallman says: "I've been performing since 2005 and I've been all over the world swearing at people and being daft for money."

Australian Vincent was a writer for The Last Leg television show that won a Bafta award for its coverage of the 2012 Paralympic Games in London.

Goldsmith spent his youth as a street performer and is now recognised for his original stand-up.

A guitar-wielding satirist from Liverpool,

Gribbin's comedy songs combine razor-sharp lyrics with memorable tunes.

Firmly based in rock'n'roll and refusing to pull no punches, these are ditties of pen-guin-suited plink plonk piano playing posh gobs.

JOIN PACK

With the River Thames running alongside many parts of south-west London and just a stone's throw away from many boroughs, activities on and around the water are a great way to spend your free time, writes Laura Proto.

While many people may simply prefer to relax on the riverbanks on a sunny day, with so many different activities available on the water, now is a great time to step out of your comfort zone and try one of the many offerings.

From rowing clubs in Kingston, Twickenham and Putney, to smooth and relaxing boat rides that allow you to take in the varied scenery along the Thames, there is something for everyone to enjoy.

Paddleboarding is a river-based activity that has increased in popularity, with Active360 offering sessions that start from under the arches of Kew Bridge.

With a wetsuit, board, paddle and a life jacket if you so desire, paddleboarding allows you to make your way safely up the river in a way set to become one of the UK's most popular water-sports.

Paul Hyman, director and founder of Active360, says:

"It's a great way to see London from a new perspective and of course it's a very good way of getting fit. We take many people out on the river for the first time and they are always amazed at how scenic and natural the river is. 'It's full of wildlife; fish, birds and even the odd seal.

Every time you go out there it's a unique experience."

Hyman says paddleboarding is suitable for children as young as six years old and there is no upper age limit, with people older than 70 taking part. Swimming ability is not important, but confidence in water is crucial.

If immersing yourself in water is not for you, the River Thames and its sights can still be explored while you remain dry.

Turks Launches, based in Kingston, offers river boat cruises that allow you to explore Richmond, Kingston and Hampton Court Palace.

With a history of more than 300 years in service, the cruises will take you along the river, passing Hampton Court Palace and its world-famous garden and through Teddington Lock.

You will also be able to gain a sneak peek of Eel Pie Island, Twickenham, before hopping off in either Richmond or Kingston to enjoy activities on dry land.

With so many fun river activities on offer, why not head out to the Thames and see which is the one for you.

A dazzling show, packed with 20th century music, is swinging into Epsom this month.

Rat Pack Vegas Spectacular Show features tribute artists who will portray musical greats Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Sammy Davis Junior.

Epsom Playhouse says: "Totally live both musically and vocally they are accompanied by their orchestra who also join in the fun along with the Fabulous Vegas Showgirls who add a touch of glamour to proceedings.

"With an abundance of class and style they take you on a trip back in time to vintage 1960s Las Vegas hip and cool as their timeless soiree remains the pinnacle of quality entertainment."

Expect to hear hits Come Fly With Me, Under My Skin, Mr Bojangles, Fly Me To the Moon, That's Amore, Mack the Knife and Sway.

● Rat Pack Vegas Spectacular Show; Epsom Playhouse, Ashley Avenue, Epsom; Wednesday, September 24, 7.30pm; tickets from £22. Box office 01372 742555 or visit ratpack.biz and epsomplayhouse.co.uk

Epsom miss out on promotion

Epsom completed their inaugural season in Division Two of the Surrey Championship in third spot, just two points off the second promotion place.

Danny Secchi's men needed to beat Trinity Mid-Whitgiftian, which they duly did by 177 runs, and hope runners up Chipstead slipped up at Purley, which they did not.

Jonathan Wileman (98*) and Asim Zeb (84) starred on Saturday as carded 254-6 off their 50 overs.

With the ball, Will Moore, pictured, ended the season in style taking 5-17.

Going: Epsom & Ewell boss Lyndon Buckwell

Lyndon's final act

Epsom & Ewell boss Lyndon Buckwell has stepped down as manager for family reasons after eight years in charge.

The boss made his announcement after presiding over Saturday's 5-2 win at Hanworth Villa in the Premier Division of the Combined Counties League.

In a club statement, Buckwell said: "My last game will be this weekend against Frimley Green, and it is with deep sadness that I will be leaving."

"The move down to West Sussex has taken its toll on my work and family."

"I leave knowing that on the pitch the club is in a better shape than when Tony Coombe and I took it over, the highlight being when we won the League Cup in 2013."

Buckwell's assistant Glyn Mandeville will take over the reins.

The home match against Frimley Green at Chipstead has been designated as a "Thank you Lyndon" day.

Taking over the reins will be Buckwell's assistant Glyn Mandeville.

SPORTS EDITOR
TIM ASHTON

tim.ashton@london.newsquest.co.uk

In the cold light of day, Ashtead CC skipper Tom Deighton is a proud man despite defeat in the final of the ECB National Club T20 on Tuesday.

The Stags were undone by an exemplary batting display by Chester Broughton Hall's Lee Dixon, who hit 87 off 47 balls to leave Deighton's men chasing 178 at Northants County Ground.

The imposing total was a step too far for Ashtead, who were skittled for 80 to lose by 98 runs.

But for Deighton, pictured, actually reaching the final – via a nine-run win over Peterborough Town – is reason enough to be cheerful.

He said: "Looking back on the day, it's one of mixed emotions. The main thing was to reach the final and have that experience."

"Thinking about it, we had done so well to get to finals day that despite losing, people were not completely devastated."

"We were beaten by one excellent batting display on a pitch that should not have suited it, but you cannot argue with how well he [Dixon] played."

The competition began with 800 clubs and was whittled down to four, with Ashtead winning the Surrey T20 title, then beating the champions of Sussex, Kent and Devon to take their place in the showdown – much to the enjoyment of their Surrey Championship rivals.

He added: "I was overwhelmed with the support we received on Twitter from so many Surrey clubs."

"I'd never thought about it before, but it just goes to show that the Surrey Championship is a real community, which goes beyond your own team."

Meanwhile, despite a two-wicket defeat at Horsley & Send on Saturday, Ashtead will be playing Division One cricket next season after promotion as champions.

And the club's second string also won promotion, as runners-up, to the Premier Division after opener Gary Martin (127) inspired them to victory over nearest rivals Spencer.

All in all, it has been a good season for the Woodfield Lane-based club.

Chairman Richard Laudy said: "It's been a fantastic year for the club, two promotions, reaching the T20 final and the building of a new pavilion."

"Getting to the T20 final was the biggest day in the club's history, and it shows the tremendous commitment of the players."

"They had to win 11 games, beating seven Premier Division sides, to reach the final – and for what was a Division Two side that is one hell of an achievement."

The only blight on the day was Sky Sport's decision to change its broadcast schedule, dropping the finals day coverage for day one of the County Championship decider between Notts and Yorkshire.

For the full story and reaction, pick up next week's Epsom Guardian.

Good start: Ashtead's Paul Cohen celebrates a wicket in Tuesday's T20 semi-final win over Peterborough Town

S&E robbed at home

Steve Munford kicked nine points for Sutton & Epsom against Guildford on the opening day of the London Division One South season. However, they were denied a win as the visitors scored a try and conversion deep into injury time to steal a 26-24 result. James Bennett, Pete Matthews and Andy Matthews got the tries that were to be in vain. S&E go to Cobham this weekend.

SPORTSbrief

FOOTBALL: Epsom Athletic are into the second qualifying round of the FA Vase after a 3-2 win over Deal Town on Saturday. Goals from Barry Corder, Mark Webb and Robbie Burns proved enough to set up a trip to Raynes Park Vale on October 4. Athletic, at the wrong end of Division One of the Combined Counties, host fellow strugglers BC Hounslow United this weekend.

CRICKET: Leatherhead skipper Matt Joblin has stepped down after five years at the helm. He finished on a high with a 49-run win at Sutton on Saturday that secured a sixth place finish in the Premier Division of the Surrey Championship. The win featured a knock of 74 from Mike Nicol and four wickets for Mark Farrant. For a full interview with Joblin, pick up next week's Epsom Guardian.

PARKRUN: Epsom & Ewell Harriers had two reasons to be happy after last weekend's action. Tom Pocock took the tape at Kingston, clocking 18 minutes 13 seconds, and Ollie Garrod did likewise at Nonsuch Park in 16:08.

CRICKET: Banstead's miserable season in the Surrey Championship Premier Division ended with a four-wicket defeat at Valley End. Freddie van den Burgh (80) top scored for the side relegated to Division One.

ATHLETICS: Tadworth AC's Mark Todd joined a field of 1,666 runners for the Maidenhead half marathon on Sunday. In fine conditions, he finished 242nd, clocking one hour 31 minutes 39 seconds.

FENCING: Epsom Fencing Club's next junior beginners course, for 10 to 13 year-olds, starts at 7pm on September 17 at Blenheim High School. The adult course, for 14 years and over starts at 8pm. For details go to epsomfencingclub.org.

Motorhead to go one better

Banstead saloon car racer Paul Rivett is still searching an "illusive" win after recording a fourth second place finish in the UK Clio Cup.

Racing at Rockingham last weekend, Rivett claimed a fourth and second to climb to seventh in the overall standings, with one meeting left.

However, despite the frustration of missing out on first place, Rivett is confident he and his WDE Motorsport team are moving in the right direction.

The 35-year-old said: "This is what we need. It seems this year we've either had bad luck or second places most of the time so we could do with that elusive win."

"In my second-place race, it took a little while to get past Jordan [Stilp, currently second in the standings] but we were quicker."

"That is a good sign." There is now a five-week break with the championship finale taking place on October 11 at Brands Hatch.

Shona shines in Epsom

Epsom athletics and Team GB star Shona Richards was on hand at the home of Epsom & Ewell Harriers on Monday to launch the new Epsom Athletics Academy. ## Tanners enter the Cup fray

Leatherhead get their FA Cup campaign under way this weekend with the visit to Fetcham Grove of Faversham Town, writes Will Burton.

When the sides met in last season's Ryman Division One South, Faversham came out on top with a 3-1 win in Surrey, while the return fixture in Kent finished 1-1.

However, Tanners boss Richard Brady believes that history and form, Faversham are currently third in Ryman Division One South, go out the window when the FA Cup comes round.

And that may be just as well as Tanners are without a win in four Ryman Premier outings, the latest being a 1-1 draw at Bury Town on Tuesday night.

He said: "We approach these matches the same as any other but there is more atmosphere and fever surrounding them."

"With cup football anything can happen."

"The FA Cup has got a special attachment so we will be up for that game."
